

SUNDAY MARCH 27

CONNECTICUT PREMIERE

Precious Life

Israel, 2010, 82 minutes
Hebrew and Arabic with English subtitles
Director: Shlomi Eldar

Sunday, March 27, 7:30 PM
K & G Theatres, Bloomfield 8

One of the most mesmerizing films in recent times, this award-winning new documentary follows the emotional story of gravely ill infant Mohammed Abu Mustafa, as his Palestinian parents, Jewish doctors and a prominent Israeli journalist race the clock to save his life. Praised by New York Times columnist Thomas Friedman as "remarkable," the thrilling plot unfolds as the conflict-torn Palestinian vs. Israeli routine continues. Mohammed's parents, his doctors and the reporter Shlomi Eldar must face their own prejudices and conflicts. Miles away from the hospital, the war in Gaza rages on, challenging the boy's rescue and survival in more ways than medical.

"The only thing I can imagine standing in the way of an Oscar for 'Precious Life' is peace breaking out."

The Wall Street Journal

"A remarkable new documentary... This is the Middle East I know." Thomas L. Friedman, The New York Times

- ★ Short List, Best Documentary, Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Science, 2010
- ★ Best Documentary, Israel Film Academy, Ophir Awards, 2010
- ★ Special Jury Prize, Jerusalem International Film Festival, 2010
- ★ Official Selection, Toronto International Film Festival, 2010
- ★ Official Selection, Telluride Film Festival, 2010
- ★ Official Selection, Mill Valley Film Festival, 2010

This film is sponsored by
Hartford Hospital and Weinstein Mortuary.